

PRESIDENT WILSON PROPOSES LEAGUE TO ENFORCE PEACE

EXECUTIVE LAYS QUESTION BEFORE SENATE IN PERSONAL ADDRESS

Asserts A Lasting Peace in Europe Cannot Be A Peace of Victory for Either Side and That Peace Must Be Followed By A Concert of Nations to Prevent War—Proposes Nations Should Adopt the Monroe Doctrine as the Doctrine of the World.

Washington, Jan. 22.—Whether the United States shall enter a world peace league and as many contend, thereby abandon its traditional policy of isolation and no entangling alliances was laid squarely before congress and the country today by President Wilson in a personal address to the senate.

Leaves Congress Amazed.
For the first time in more than a hundred years a president of the United States appeared in the senate chamber to discuss the nation's foreign relations after the manner of Washington, Adams and Madison. The effect was to leave congress, all official quarters and the foreign diplomats amazed and bewildered.

Immediately there arose a sharp division of opinion over the propriety as well as the substance of the president's proposal.

"Startling", "staggering", "astounding", "the noblest utterance that has fallen from human lips since the Declaration of Independence," were among the expressions of senators. The president himself, after his address said: "I have said what everybody has been longing for, but has thought impossible. Now it appears to be possible."

Chief Points of Address.
The chief points of the president's address were:

That a lasting peace in Europe cannot be a peace of victory for either side.

That peace must be followed by a definite concert of powers to assure the world that no catastrophe of war shall overwhelm it again.

That in such a concert of powers the United States cannot withhold its participation to guarantee peace and justice throughout the world.

That before a peace is made the United States government should promptly formulate the conditions upon which it would feel justified in asking the American people for their formal and solemn adherence.

"It is clear to every man who thinks," the president told the senate, "that there is in this promise no breach in either our traditions or our policy as a nation but a fulfillment rather of all that we have professed or striven for."

Proposes Adoption Monroe Doctrine
"I am proposing as it were, that the nations should with one accord, adopt the doctrine of President Monroe as the doctrine of the world, that no nation should seek to extend its policy over any other nation or people, but that every people should be left free to determine its own policy, its own way of development, unhindered, unthreatened, unafraid, the little along with the great and powerful."

"I am proposing that all nations henceforth avoid entangling alliances which would draw them into competitions of power, catch them in a net of intrigue and selfish rivalry, and disturb their own affairs with influence intruded from without. There is no entangling alliance in a concert of power. When all unite to act in the same sense and with the same purpose all act in the common interest and are free to live their own lives under a common protection."

"I am proposing government by the consent of the governed; that freedom of the seas, which is international conference after conference representatives of the United States have urged with the eloquence of those who are convinced disciples of liberty and that moderation of armaments which makes of armies and navies a power for order merely, not an instrument of aggression or of selfish violence."

Are American Principles.
"These are American principles. American policies. We could stand for no others. And they are also the principles and policies of forward looking men and women everywhere, of every modern nation, of every enlightened community. They are the principles of mankind and must prevail."

While the president was speaking copies of his address had been forwarded to American diplomats in all the belligerent countries for the information of the foreign offices and were being prepared for representatives of neutral governments here.

Back of the fundamental proposal for some sort of international sanction for preservation of the future peace of the world, now already accepted in principle by both sets of belligerents in their replies to President Wilson's peace note lies the possibility which the president today openly expressed, that thereby may be laid the ground work upon which an approach may be made to an end of the present conflict.

In public utterances the president has hitherto expressed the conviction that the present war was the last great war in which the United States could be a neutral, that it no longer could remain in the position of being "half in and half out" of world affairs. In his speech accepting his second nomination and in other addresses he has touched upon the same sentiment which found its full development in his addresses today.

Cannot Withhold Service.
"The American people," the president told the senate, "cannot in honor, withhold the service to which they are about to be challenged."

"They owe it to themselves," he said, "and to other nations of the world to state the conditions under which they will feel free to render it. I am here to attempt to state those conditions."

"The present war must first be ended but we owe it to candor and to just regard for the opinion of mankind to say that so far as our participating in guarantees of future peace is concerned it makes a great deal of difference in what way and upon what terms it is ended."

While the United States would have no voice in what those terms might be the president said, it would have a voice in determining whether they should be made lasting by guarantees of universal covenant.

"No covenant of co-operative peace," said he, "that does not include the principles of the new world can suffice to keep the future safe against war and yet there is only one sort of peace that the people of America could join in guaranteeing."

"The elements of that peace must be the elements that engage the confidence and satisfy the principles of the American governments, elements consistent with their political faith and with the practical convictions which the peoples of America have once for all embraced and undertaken to defend."

Warning Old World
From this utterance all the president's hearers drew the common conclusion that he was holding out to the old world a warning that if it would command the potent influence of the new for the future peace of all the settlement of the war must involve concession and sacrifice, equality of rights, freedom of the seas and in his own words, "inviolable security of life, of worship, and of industrial and social development."

"To all peoples who have lived heretofore under the power of governments devoted to a faith and purpose hostile to their own."

He specifically mentioned that the statesmen of all the belligerents have agreed that there should be a "united, independent autonomous Poland," but his words were construed to apply to Alsace-Lorraine, Belgium, the Italian portions of Austria and the mixed nationalities of the Balkans as well.

Some of the senators who disagreed with the president referred to this portion of his address as "an attempt to parcel Europe" and an interference in the affairs of the eastern hemisphere.

Nevertheless the president went exhaustively into that phase of his proposal saying "the world can be at peace only if life is stable and there can be no stability where there is not tranquility of spirit and a sense of justice of freedom and of right."

Want Only Equality of Rights
"Equality of territory or of resources there of course cannot be nor any other sort of equality not gained in the ordinary peaceful and legitimate development of the people themselves. But no one asks or expects anything but an equality of rights. Mankind is looking now for freedom of life, not for equipolence of power."

Dealing with the question of armaments which he declared to be the "most immediate and intensely practical question connected with the future, fortunes of nations and of mankind," the president declared there could be no assurance of safety if great armaments were to be built upon and maintained and that difficult as the question might be it must be faced with the greatest candor and decided in a spirit of real accommodation."

Previously the president had touched upon a collateral point when he said:

"More agreements may not make peace secure. It will be absolutely necessary that a force be created as a guarantor of the permanency of the settlement so much greater than the force of any nation now engaged or any alliance hitherto formed or projected, that no nation, no probable combination of nations could face or withstand it. If peace presently to be made is to endure, it must be a peace made secure by the organized major force of mankind."

Recalls Balfour's Statement
This declaration called to the minds of the president's hearers the statement of Arthur Balfour, British foreign minister, in his recent note which said that "an international sanction for peace should be backed by a force which would give pause to the hardest aggressor."

Members of congress generally do not regard the president's proposals as calling for any action at this time and even senators who did not agree with the suggestions advanced for world peace did not question the president's right to suggest them nor to enter upon negotiations tending to commit the United States to such a policy.

Republicans such as Senators Lodge and Borah, who are members of the foreign relations committee, would not comment on the message.

One of the Republican leaders asserted that the president had full authority to proceed along lines he had suggested; that there could be no constitutional bar to his efforts and such a league for peace as he proposed would have to be embodied into a treaty.

It might be possible for the president at some future time to negotiate such a treaty in this senator's opinion but to get the senate's ratification of such a convention was another and far more improbable matter.

APPROVE NEW YORK DAYLIGHT SAVING PLAN

Executive Committee of American Federation of Labor Passes Resolution.

New York, Jan. 22.—The New York Daylight saving committee's plan to advance the clock one hour during the five months beginning May 1 has been approved by the American Federation of Labor thru its president, Samuel Gompers, and its executive committee.

The resolution placing the Federation on record as favoring the move received by the daylight committee and made public today, said that "we urge the inauguration of a daylight saving project for the conservation of time and opportunity for greater leisure and open air exercise for the masses of the people and we insist that in order that the change may be beneficial it must have its general application throughout the United States."

A bill to put the daylight saving plan of the committee into effect now is before congress while a national convention to consider it will be held January 30 and 31, in this city.

SAILORS LEAVE FOR NEW YORK

PERNAMBUCO, Jan. 22.—Eight American sailors from the British Steamer St. Theodore, captured by the German raider, an American sailor from the minic and two Dutch sailors, one Russian and one Norwegian of the crew of the St. Theodore, embarked today aboard the British Steamer Francis, bound for New York.

The crews of the Minic and Radnorshire will embark tomorrow on the Dutch Steamer Hollandia bound for England. The steamer Hudson Maru which brought the crew of some of the ships that fell victim to the Germans, to this port, left today for New York.

BRYAN WILL SPEAK IN SPRINGFIELD TODAY

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 22.—Illinois dry leaders, perfected arrangements tonight for the appearance here tomorrow of William Jennings Bryan, whose coming will be simultaneous with introduction of a statewide prohibition bill in the legislature.

Mr. Bryan will arrive here at two p. m., on a special train from Chicago with several hundred Chicago Democrats. Mr. Bryan plans two addresses here at the arsenal, one under the auspices of the Illinois Democrats in the afternoon and the other under the auspices of the Springfield local option committee at night.

DENY EARLIER REPORTS.

Douglas, Ariz., Jan. 22.—Messages received here late today from Cananea deny earlier reports that a large number of people had been killed or seriously injured in the collapse of one wall of the Sonora hotel Sunday. Gaston Mendoza, aged 22, was the only person killed, his body being recovered today. A number of guests, including several Americans were slightly injured.

APPROVE HOUSE AMENDMENT.

Washington, Jan. 22.—After a long debate the senate today approved a house amendment to the legislative appropriation bill giving $72,000,000 to the children's bureau for investigation of infant mortality.

Newspaper Comment On Wilson's Address

Chicago Tribune.—Considering the sacrifices being made by the peoples of Europe, we can hardly fail to sympathize with the view not infrequently expressed abroad that the terms of whatever peace is arrived at are a matter strictly for those who have paid the price. We assume, therefore, that Mr. Wilson's suggestions, which would otherwise seem intrusive and premature, are advanced upon some clear intimation that they would be timely. If it is determined that we are to be invited to help open the peace of Europe obviously it is our right to say upon what terms we will accept the new burden. * * * * * But Mr. Wilson's proposals, however well they square with American theories and convictions, call for a good deal of consideration. * * * * *

—We build Utopias easily in our blessed land.

Chicago Herald.—President Wilson's address * * * * * is a model of straightforward statement. * * * * * Neither side has definitely renounced Victory but in spite of all that it is well to call attention of the belligerents to the undoubted fact that the state of permanent peace is largely bound up in the terms of the treaties that will end this particular war. * * * * * It is particularly timely to admonish those Americans who oppose the peace league movement not only that it involves no entangling alliances, such as Washington had in mind, but that the sort of peace it would and could guarantee must be rooted in the best traditions of America.

Illinois Staats Zeitung. (Chicago). President Wilson calmly gave vent to great words, without any authority to bring their influence to bear. President Wilson not only missed the psychological moment to bring peace to cultured humanity and eternal glory to the United States but the president has lost all moral authority to make demands on the nations at war from the standpoint of morality, because of his unneutral policy and his direct protection to munition and blood usury. He also is powerless from the standpoint of might in a military or political sense. We see Mr. Wilson today in a historical pose and probably for the last time.

The New York Sun.—What Mr. Wilson is sworn to do is prescribed by the constitution. He is sworn to execute faithfully the office of president of the United States and to the best of his ability to preserve, protect and defend the constitution of the United States. He is not sworn to execute faithfully the offices of president of humanity.

The New York World.—Our own chief is that President Wilson has enunciated the broad principles of liberty and justice upon which alone a durable peace is possible and under which the Democracy of the world can ultimately come into its own. The influence which the president's address exerts upon Europe will depend in a very large measure upon the influence which it exerts at home and its influence at home will depend in a very large measure upon the force that the American people still attach to those political principles which were once the life blood of the republic.

The New York German Herald.—We permit ourselves to hope that Mr. Wilson's activities in the peace question are not undertaken without the knowledge and approval of the belligerents. If that is the case, the peace negotiations behind the scenes should be well underway.

There is a view too, that Mr. Wilson's suggestion would, in some way lead to the hegemony of the so-called Anglo-Saxon nations, which would mean England. The propaganda for such an alliance has been in evidence for a quarter of a century and Mr. Wilson's anglophile leanings are so well known that any alliance proposition he advances should be well subjected to close scrutiny.

The London Morning Post describes President Wilson's speech as "full of noble aspirations and admirable intemperance and energy" and the belligerents feel the desire for peace at least as much as do neutrals.

"It is only when we get down to the question of how peace is to be attained and maintained," says the Post, "that we might find ourselves in disagreement."

The paper proceeds to analyze at length the president's statements, meeting them with counter statements and appealing to incidents of American history. In support of the latter, it says:

"According to President Wilson's logic it would have been better for Lincoln to have met the Southern leaders upon the field, shaken hands and agreed upon peace. * * * * *

"When war between Spain and the United States was still unsettled would Americans have been satisfied if the European powers had intervened and said: 'you must make peace without victory, because any other peace would leave the sting of resentment and a bitter memory.'"

"In both of these cases Americans would have replied, and did reply, that the war must be fought to a finish until the vanquished accepted the victor's terms."

FORMER JUDGE DALLAS DIES.
Philadelphia, Jan. 22.—Announcement was made today of the death at his home here yesterday of former Judge James M. Dallas of the United States circuit court of appeals for the third judicial district. He was 78 years old. He retired from the bench in 1909. Judge Dallas was a nephew of George M. Dallas, vice president of the United States, under President Polk.

PRESIDENT PLANS TO VISIT CAPITAL OFTEN

Determined to have Legislative Program Completed

Executive Plans to Spend at Least an Hour Three Times a Week in His Room at Capitol—Leaders Willing to Co-Operate.

Washington, Jan. 22.—Determined if possible to have his legislative program completed during the present session of congress President Wilson today inaugurated a new custom of going frequently to his room in the capitol for detailed discussions of pending bills with members of the senate and house. He has made tentative plans for spending at least an hour, three times a week at the capitol instead of seeing members of congress at the white house.

Willing to Co-Operate.
Leaders of senate and house gave assurances today of their willingness to co-operate in speeding up the legislative machinery. The senate steering committee met and appointed sub-committees to discuss various measures and will meet again tomorrow to map out further plans. Holding of night sessions was one step discussed.

The measures on which the president laid stress in his talks today were the railroad bills, the vocational education measure, the general leasing and waterpower bills, the Port of Rico bill and revenue legislation. He insisted that all these measures be passed during the present session of congress.

Reveal Possible Hitch.
A possible hitch was revealed when a group of western Senators, including Senators Phelan, Pittman, Meyers and Walsh, told the president the belief was general that no action on the general leasing and waterpower bills could be secured until the navy department compromised in its opposition to the Phelan amendment to the leasing measure to relieve private operators on oil lands within naval reserves. The president said he was investigating the subject and was very anxious that action be taken on the waterpower and general leasing bills. Secretary Daniels has been steadfast in his opposition to the Phelan proposal.

Returning to the white house for lunch after delivering his address to the senate on peace, Mr. Wilson went back to the capitol and began seeing senators and representatives and delegations in quick succession.

Except during the discussion of the oil lands question the door to his office was left open and visitors were treated to the unusual spectacle of a president actively at work in public.

Take up Many Subjects.
Besides talking over the general program with senate leaders the president received callers who took up many subjects. A committee headed by Senator Underwood and representing various commercial organizations in the south urged the president to locate the government nitrate plant authorized by congress at the last session at Mispel Shoals on the Tennessee river in Alabama. A delegation from cities and towns along the Lower Mississippi river urged that in providing for flood prevention work, owners of property be indemnified for damage.

Mrs. James Starr of Philadelphia presented a memorial from the colonial dames protesting against Belgian deportations and Senator Pomerehne brought a similar memorial from Cincinnati civic organizations.

Senator after senator as well as many members of the house called to congratulate the president on his peace address.

Today's visit to the capitol was the president's third trip there for conferences within a week.

CHARACTER WITNESSES TESTIFY FOR SPANELL

State Completes Case Against Man Charged with Killing His Wife.

San Angelo, Texas, Jan. 22.—Eleven character witnesses for the defense testified in district court this afternoon that Harry J. Spannell's reputation during ten years' residence in Waco, Texas, was good. Spannell is on trial charged with killing his wife.

The state completed its case early in the afternoon. Several objections by the prosecution seeking to exclude testimony regarding Spannell's devoted life to his family were overruled.

Prof. R. E. Hopkins of Baylor University, Waco, testified as to Spannell's good reputation. He said he had met Spannell in Leipzig, where the defendant was treasurer of a church.

None of the witnesses have ever heard Spannell swear.

The defense has several more witnesses to put on the stand and counsel said tonight it was doubtful if Spannell himself would testify tomorrow.

The case against Spannell charging the killing of Lieut. Col. M. C. Butler is set for trial here Thursday.

JERKA PLEADS NOT GUILTY.

NEW LONDON, Conn., Jan. 23.—A strange vessel, reported in marine circles to be a German submarine, anchored in the outer harbor several miles from shore soon after 3 o'clock this morning. ### SUPREME COURT UPHOLDS SO-CALLED BLUE SKY LAWS

Dissolves Federal Court Injunctions Suspending Enforcement of the Law.

Washington Jan. 22.—So-called blue sky laws of Ohio Michigan and South Dakota regulating the sale of securities and designed to bar get-rich-quick schemes were upheld as constitutional by the supreme court today in far-reaching decisions affecting similar laws in twenty-six states.

Justice McKenna handed down the opinions of the court to which Justice McReynolds alone dissented. They admit that such statutes may curb and burden legitimate business but hold that the interests of legitimate business are not paramount to the police power of states to protect their citizens from fraud. Federal court injunctions suspending enforcement of the laws are dissolved.

The laws do not attempt to prohibit unwise investments but give state authorities thru security commissions or banking superintendents, authority to forbid sale within state borders of securities which officials believe would result in fraud upon investors. The Michigan and South Dakota statutes were patterned upon the "model" blue sky bill drafted by the National Association of Attorney Generals which is the model of the laws of several other states. That securities are instrumentalities of commerce and as such exempt from state regulation and subject only to national supervision, was the principal contention of bankers, stock salesmen and corporations attacking the laws.

The Investment Bankers Association of America, thru former Attorney General Wickersham, appeared in the litigation attacking the statute.

WILL MAKE FORMAL INQUIRY INTO FLIGHT
SAN DIEGO, Cal., Jan. 22.—Formal inquiry into a flight by two army officers from the North Island aviation station which resulted in their being lost eight days on a lower California desert is to be started as soon as possible. Col. W. A. Classford, commandant at North Island, announced today thru Major William Burnside of the field officers' training department.

"An inquiry will be held in an effort to determine how the course of the airplane became diverted and also as to the loss of the machine," Major Burnside said.

Lieut. Col. Bishop's Better
Yuma, Ariz., Jan. 22.—Lieutenant Col. Harry G. Bishop was reported slightly better today at a hospital where he was taken when brought from the Sonora desert, where he was found exhausted after being lost eight days with Lieut. W. A. Robertson.

FIND POLICEMAN WITH SKULL FRACTURED
ROCK ISLAND, Ill., Jan. 23.—Patrolman J. Munn was found lying on a sidewalk last night with his skull fractured. He died in the ambulance on the way to the hospital, not having regained consciousness. While there are suspicions that the officer may have been the victim of foul play, the police theory is that he slipped on an icy sidewalk and fell in such a manner as to fracture the skull. Munn was 40 years old. He leaves a wife and two children.

ARTISTS TO BURY GIRL SUICIDE

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 22.—San Francisco's art colony, it was announced today, will take charge of the burial of Miss Betty De Long, the artist who ended her life under dramatic circumstances in her studio here, Saturday night. The police have thoroughly corroborated the story told by Dr. William S. Porter, the Oakland surgeon who was in the studio with Miss De Long and who for three hours vainly sought to dissuade her from her announced intention of killing herself.

PERSHING SENDS SUPPLIES NORTH

Mexican Courier Reports Truck Train Leaves Field Headquarters

Outpost Troops Move Toward Colonia Dublan Preparatory To Withdrawal

CARRIES EXCESS STORES

CENSORS GUARD ACTION

JUAREZ, Mex., Jan. 22.—A Mexican Courier arrived here tonight from Casas Grandes with an official message saying 161 motor trucks of the American expeditionary force left Colonia Dublan yesterday for Columbus, N. M., loaded to the top with camp equipment, supplies, ordnance, stores and excess baggage. The truck trains were scheduled to arrive in Columbus at 9:30 tonight according to the courier.

He said well castings had been drawn at the headquarters of the punitive expedition at Colonia Dublan, loaded on trucks and sent to the Columbus field base. He also reported that the Mormon settlers had asked for safe conducts to the border but had been refused by General Pershing, who referred them to the Mexican authorities. Many of these settlers will come out on the first Mexico Northwestern train, he added and many natives were also planning to come to Juarez.

Move Toward Headquarters.
After 10 months and 7 days in the field, General Pershing's outpost troops were moving toward field headquarters today preparatory to withdrawal from Mexico, according to a military message received here from Casas Grandes late today.

No actual movement of troops toward the American border from the field headquarters however has yet begun according to this same message.

The El Valle garrison started moving toward Colonia Dublan the field headquarters early yesterday it was added and the entire column of 2,500 troops was expected to encamp tonight at the Mormon colony where General Pershing has his headquarters.

Other reports received at the Carranza consulate in El Paso and from other sources here tend to confirm the first report saying the American troops were concentrating at the field headquarters.

Enforce Censorship.
El Paso, Texas, Jan. 13.—It was pointed out here tonight that the army will make every effort to keep the movements of the American troops secret until they are well on their way to the border in order to prevent the possibility of Mexican bandits undertaking sniping operations along the communication line while the troops were moving northward. A strict censorship of the movements of the expedition when it entered Mexico was enforced and similar conditions were said today to prevail at Columbus and field headquarters.

Feed Horses To Dublan.
Juarez, Mex., Jan. 22.—A large shipment of feed for horses of the United States cavalry was hauled from Casas Grandes to Colonia Dublan today, according to a railroad report received here and a shipment of 25 cars of firewood to be used in the temporary field camp was also received at Casas Grandes from the mountains.

The general movement of American troops from Mexico during the present week was predicted by a high official of the Carranza government here tonight and official messages were sent to General Venustiano Carranza, General Alvaro Obregon, General Murguia and de facto commanders announcing the movement, which it was said in these messages, were believed to be preliminary to the immediate withdrawal of the punitive expedition from Mexican soil.

Arrangements are being made to garrison the towns in Western Chihuahua now occupied by American troops. General Manuel Dieguez will send three thousand troops from Torreon it was announced tonight while General Murguia will police a part of the territory with his troops.

THE POWER OF EXAMPLE.

The teamsters of Chicago went on a strike at just the right time to secure their demands. The strike leaders didn't call it the psychological moment, but that's what it was. Thus the example set by the railway brotherhoods last summer when they forced the passage of the Adamson law, brought fruit in Chicago.

THE MAJESTY OF THE LAW.

At Mt. Vernon Joseph Kemper felt the majesty of the law when he was sent to Chester penitentiary under an indeterminate sentence from one to fourteen years, for highway robbery. Kemper held up a pedestrian and robbed him of a knife and a spectacle case valued at 15 cents. It's a likely guess that if the offender had been tried for cruelty to his wife and children that he would have been given fifteen days in jail and if his trial had been for manslaughter it would have been a hung jury or continuance taken to another term of court.

AMAZING FIGURES.

Again let us refer to the Belgian relief work and forget to look back with any complacency upon what has been accomplished in the past two years. The American commission is preparing for at least one more year's work and faces the necessity of raising nearly $150,000,000 for this work. There are approximately eleven million persons in Belgium and northern France dependent upon the work of the commission and there is nothing uncertain or visionary about this need.

CONGRESSMAN RAINY'S ADVICE

Congressman Rainey is either very hopeful about the success of the movement fostered by the League to Enforce Peace or else he wants the government clerks to wait for increased pay until after the U. S. C. of L. is not such a profile theme of discussion. The congressman in a recent letter addressed to the government clerks that their demands for increases are badly timed and that their advisers and leaders ought to postpone this discussion until after the war ends. "Possibly disarmament arrangements will then be in view which may even apply to this country."

CONGRESSIONAL WORK LAGGING.

The leak probe investigation has its interest but leaders in congress and in the senate thoroughly interested in the welfare of the country are deeply regretting the delay which the probe has caused for the legislative program. In the endeavor to make up for lost time and to avoid an extra session the steering committee is now planning for longer day sessions and possibly some at night.

It is up to the administration to get thru at this session some sort of labor legislation and it is now frequently intimated that any such legislation will not include the president's recommendation of any provision which will restrict the right of labor to strike. If President Wilson earnestly desires to get thru a railroad bill he has the necessary alignments but it may be that the president, like other party leaders, will not object to doing a little side-stepping on this question.

ROAD THE PEOPLE'S HIGHWAY

A Journal reader who is not an automobile owner commented yesterday on the fact that due and favorable prominence had been given the proposed law before the general assembly making the theft of an automobile punishable by a fine of $5,000 and suggested that while this might be a good law, it would be well to include another making it an offense punishable by a $5,000 fine when an automobile driver kills or seriously injures any pedestrian. To this reader we commend the following taken from Capper's Weekly:

Many drivers of motor cars show daily that they know little of the legal rights of the highway.

They are not aware that the courts have determined the superior right belongs to the pedestrian, not to the person riding in a vehicle. Notwithstanding this is the law and has been announced emphatically by courts, motor drivers seeing a pedestrian about to cross the street half a block ahead of them, when the pedestrian continues on his way, toot their horns sharply at him, the meaning being: "Get out of the way! This is my road, not yours. Stand back! You may go on after I have passed."

It does not occur to the driver that he can stop.

THERE WAS A LITTLE SECRET

There was a little secret. I've heard the people say, Lying in the White House Snuggly tucked away.

Then strange it was the markets. Changed color all at once. And people thought that some one had acted like a dunce.

Now maybe that same secret. Just acted like a freak.

That no one told another, It simply "sprung a leak."

Rippling Rhymes By WALT MASON

Domestic.
We've had about a thousand maids, who worked for us for wages; they cleaned the floors and window shades, and cooked, by easy stages. And ever and anon they'd quit; their time had come to marry; and Grace would wed her smiling kit, and Jane would wed her Harry. And I felt sorry for the groom, whenever there was a wedding; when matrimony lost its bloom, he'd find some rocky slodging. Of all the thousand girls we've hired, not one was truly saving; economy would make them tired and sometimes set them raving. It was the same with Beryl Maund, with Susan and with Sally; they'd roll things up into a wad, and throw them in the alley. They wasted succotash and steak, as good as you have tasted; they wasted pudding, pie and cake, and all that could be wasted. They wasted soap, they wasted soup, and did it all with jesting, and didn't seem to care a whoop for walling or protesting. So when they go away to wed, I weep for those they marry, for Clarence, William, Stephen, Fred, Adolphus, James and Harry.

TREES ARE MADE INTO NEWSPAPER IN 145 MINUTES
Virginia.—A trial was made in Austria to decide in how short a space of time living trees could be converted into newspapers. At the session on April 17, at 7:35 in the morning, three trees were sawn down; at 9:34 the wood, having been stripped of bark, cut up, and converted into pulp, became paper, and passed from the factory to the press, whence the first printed and folded copy was issued at 10 o'clock. So that in 145 minutes the trees had become newspapers.

WHITE HALL PEOPLE LOSE IN FILM VENTURE

Has About $5,000 Invested in Eagle Company of Chicago—Former Dispatcher at Kemper Dies.

White Hall, Jan. 22.—Mrs. Elizabeth Kohn, accompanied by her five-months-old babe, arrived Sunday afternoon from Red Oak, Iowa, to visit her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Smith At Bushnell Mrs. Kohn found herself minus her ticket and pocketbook, with a sick baby on her hands. The matter was reported to A. R. F. Ballard at White Hall. Mr. Ballard was unable to locate the mother of Mrs. Kohn at that instant, and he and G. V. Darnelle, the train dispatcher at Beardstown, together provided train fare for the lady and her baby to come on to White Hall. Arriving here the generosity of these railroaders was promptly reimbursed.

Local stockholders of the Eagle Film company of Chicago have been notified that the concern has gone into the hands of receivers, and that it is undoubtedly bankrupt. There are probably forty-five stockholders here, and their investments represent probably $5,000. A meeting of these local stockholders was held Saturday, and E. C. Boehm was delegated to go to Chicago and make an investigation. Mr. Boehm is now in Chicago on this mission.

The report circulated that the Glacier Ice Co. of this city, has gone into the hands of a receiver grows out of the plant at Johnson City, Ill., being under a receivership. The Johnson City plant is controlled by the same interests that control the White Hall plant, but the receivership in no wise affects the White Hall plant.

Al Whitfield, for several years a train dispatcher for the Burlington at Galesburg, died Sunday, after an illness of about an hour. Whitfield is a native of Kemper, on this division of the Burlington, and is well known along the line. For several years his father was an undertaker at Fidelity, Jersey county.

Has a husband a right to kill the man who ruins his wife and desolates his home? Or has the woman the right to avenge her own dishonor with death? The unwritten law says "Yes". The written law says "No".

SHOULD A GIRL BE TOLD?

New York Evening Mail: "This is a picture in which there are no flaws. It is wonderful. It goes into the exclusive class—in which we have placed only two other features during the last six months."

"Beatriz Michelen's work on the witness stand in 'The Unwritten Law' is the most real and convincing emotion I have seen in picture art. Real Grief, as we know, is grotesque and distressing, if not ludicrous, but Miss Michelen's is so restrained, so free from exaggeration that it approaches artistic perfection. It is a very great triumph."

Medical Societies and State Boards Meeting in Springfield Take Action. Springfield, Ill., Jan. 22.—Representatives of a number of medical societies and state boards meeting here today endorsed Governor Frank O. Lowden's consolidation bill. "There was a difference of opinion as to the department under which the various boards should be placed in the event of consolidation. Three plans were discussed, one providing for a general department of health to take in all boards; another a general department of registration to be presided over by a man not eligible to registration in any department under his jurisdiction; and a third plan for a general department of registration and education. A formal vote was taken on the three plans, the druggists, optometrists and barbers favoring a general department of registration to be divorced entirely from the department of health and the department of education. The nurses favored a department of education and registration. The physicians favored a general department of health to include all departments. The meeting was addressed by Governor Lowden, who explained several features of his consolidation program. F. C. Dadds, secretary of the state board of pharmacy was elected chairman and presided at the meeting and Dr. C. St. Clair Drake, secretary of the state board of health was secretary.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Miss Esta Brown to Wed.
Mr. Overesch of Lafayette. Friends of Miss Esta Brown were given a pretty surprise Monday when at a party given at the home of her mother, Mrs. Charles W. Brown, 231 Webster avenue, her engagement was announced to Mr. Harry V. Overesch, Jr., of Lafayette, Ind. Eight of Miss Brown's most intimate friends were invited guests at the luncheon and when they entered the dining room and saw the beautifully decorated table they were not long in finding the silken ribbons whereon appeared the Brown-Overesch legend, which at once revealed the purpose of the party. The centerpiece was a basket of splendid pink Killarney roses. From this centerpiece white silk ribbons stretched to the glass baskets at each place, baskets filled with sweet peas of exquisite coloring and size. These roses, sweet peas and ribbons carried out the desired effects of pink and white. The whole idea of decoration and announcement was a duplication of the announcement party given for Mrs. Brown thirteen years ago save that the colors then were yellow and white. The exact time of the wedding has not been made known but it will be solemnized in the early spring. Miss Brown is very popular in the younger society circles of Jacksonville and quite naturally her friends are regretting that she is so soon to leave for an Indiana home. Mr. Overesch, who is a member of a well known family in Lafayette, is a graduate of Purdue university and is a civil engineer at present serving as public engineer of his home city. It is an interesting coincidence in connection with this approaching marriage that the father of the bride to be, the late C. W. Brown, was also a graduate of Purdue university, was for several years a resident of Lafayette and made for himself an unusual name as a civil engineer. After the serving of the luncheon yesterday afternoon the young ladies in the company spent several hours at cards. The guests were Misses Marie Wiswell, Jessie Wall, Carrie McKinnis, Helen Abbott, Beulah McMurphy, Pauline McMurphy, Esther Davis and Enid Harbke.

City Government Theme of Monday Conversation Club.

The meeting of the Monday Conversation Club yesterday, held at the home of Mrs. H. V. Stearns on West College avenue, was of more than usual interest. Mrs. W. S. Jones was the leader and her timely subject, "City Government." Mrs. Jones discussed the aldermanic, commission form and manager plan for municipal government and gave some interesting examples of what can be accomplished by able and progressive mayors, and citing the political history of Tom Johnson, "Golden Rule" Jones and Brand Whitlock, all of whom have careers notable in the history of municipal government. After the leader had presented the subject in a general way it remained for others to present sub-topics more intimately related with local affairs. The several subjects as assigned and discussed, were: City Finance—Mrs. Dunlap, Mrs. Bull, Police and Public Safety—Miss Mary Anderson; Fire Protection—Miss Dummer; Street cleaning—Miss Powell; Central Park—Miss Johnston; The Kindergarten—Mrs. Perrin; Water—Mrs. Stearns; Sewerage—Miss Dimmitt; Street Paving—Mrs. Rowe; United Relief Work—Mrs. Bassett; Publicity—Mrs. Fay.

Altogether the program was interesting and one from which the members felt that they had gathered a great deal of helpful information. The hostess served refreshments before the hour of adjournment came.

Misses Helen and Nellie Swain Gave Week End Party.

A delightful week end party was given by Misses Helen and Nellie Swain at their home near Prentice.

As there is a pond on their father's farm skating was one of the greatly enjoyed features of the occasion. Various other pastimes also occupied the time which was most happily spent by the young people assembled at the hospitable home. Among the guests were Misses Annabel Swain of Sinclair and Miss Eunice Williamson of Jacksonville.

Senior Nurses Gave Readings.
Monday evening in the chapel the nurses of Passavant hospital read before the superintendent and a number of graduate nurses interesting essays on the life and work of Florence Nightingale. These young ladies deserve special praise for the way in which they had thoroughly studied the life of this most wonderful Christian character. Later in the evening the love story of Florence Nightingale was read. Delightful refreshments were served the nurses by the superintendent of the hospital training school and the occasion was one of great pleasure and profit for all those present.

Opportunity Bible Class Entertains.
The men's Opportunity Bible class of Grace church entertained Mrs. Madden's class known as the Opportunity Circle at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pinkerton, 525 South Diamond street Monday evening. About sixty were present and the evening was spent socially and in playing games. During the evening refreshments were served.

MONDAY IN CONGRESS.

Senate.
President Wilson addressed the senate on foreign relations at one o'clock. Mayor Mitchell of New York, before military committee, advocated universal military training. Debate on legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill. Adjourned at 5:49 p. m. to 11 a. m. Tuesday.

TWO MEN SUFFOCATED IN TOWN CALABOGUE

WAPELO, Ia., Jan. 22.—Shelley Reynolds and Joseph Wilson, day laborers employed on levee work here were suffocated to death at an early hour today when a mattress on which they were lying while incarcerated in the town calabogues here was ignited. The two men were arrested yesterday while in an intoxicated condition. Their bodies were found about eight o'clock this morning. Reynolds' body was burned but it is believed that both men were suffocated before the flames reached them.

REVISE PORTION OF REVENUE MEASURE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The administration revenue bill as drafted by the house ways and means committee was revised today so that instead of exempting from the excess profit tax all corporations and partnerships having $5,000 or less annual profits, it will provide for a flat exemption of the first $5,000 in the profits of all corporations and partnerships. This is in addition to the exemption of eight per cent per annum on the capital invested. The subcommittee estimates that as revised the tax portion of the bill will yield $22,000,000 annually, the change made today reducing the total about $22,000,000. The measure will be laid before the full Democratic membership of the house committee.

REPORT ON PRINT PAPER
PROBE WILL BE HELD UP

To Inquire Concerning Effect of Canadian Order

Fixes Maximum Prices for Newsprint in Canada—Manufacturers and Publishers Will Hold Meeting in Chicago Friday.

Washington, Jan. 22.—The federal trade commission's report on its newsprint paper investigation, although virtually completed, probably will be held up for some days, it was learned today until further inquiry is made concerning the effect of a Canadian government order fixing maximum newsprint prices in Canada. A meeting announced for Friday at Chicago between paper manufacturers and publishers also may bring developments that will have a bearing on the report.

The Canadian decree was issued not affect directly the American market has aroused much interest of the trade commission as well as among publishers. It is known the commission is considering recommending legislation to prevent a recurrence of the present paper situation in which publishers have found themselves helpless against high prices and an apparent shortage. It is understood that among other things it may ask for broader powers. The commission now only can investigate and report.

Some officials in close touch with the paper situation believe the market will adjust itself soon and that even a restriction on Canadian exports hardly will affect the American market to any marked degree they say there actually is now or soon will be on the market enough paper for both Canadian and American publishers.

The meeting in Chicago Friday was called by manufacturers. The trade commission probably will be represented.

The Canadian decree was issued under orders-in-council and provides a maximum advance in paper prices of $10 a ton over old contracts. It limits exports to 80 per cent of a mill's output whether the mill is under Canadian or American management.

Four other resolutions were adopted, one pledged the fifty weekly and daily newspapers represented in the association to increase subscription rates fifty cents a year for weeklies and a dollar a year for dailies; another provides for a twenty percent increase in advertising rates. Two other resolutions pledged the support of the members to bills in congress providing for a zone system of second class mails.

MANY DEATHS ADDED TO THE COUNTY RECORD

Mrs. Elizabeth Waggoner Died Following Long Illness—Robert Diggins, a Concord Pioneer—Other Deaths.

The life of Mrs. Elizabeth E. Waggoner went out at her home, 212 Prospect street at 7:30 o'clock Monday morning. Mrs. Waggoner had been in failing health for a number of years but her final illness covered a period of three weeks, an attack of lagrippe developing into pneumonia. Mrs. Waggoner's maiden name was Elizabeth Elliott Patterson and she was the daughter of McNeal and Mary Jane Patterson. The family home was on a farm east of Jacksonville and it was there that the deceased was born, Dec. 26, 1846. While a girl of seventeen Mrs. Waggoner became a member of Pisgah Presbyterian church and was interested in the activities of that organization until 1905, when having become a resident of Jacksonville, she transferred her membership to Westminster Presbyterian church. Somewhat retiring in disposition, the chief interests in Mrs. Waggoner's life centered about her home and church, and faithfulness characterized her every act. She was untiring in her efforts to do good and the influence of her life reached beyond the family circle, as she furnished an example of industry, patience and loyalty. A firm believer in the Christian religion, she walked uprightly and so when the final days of her life came she was able to look unflinchingly into the future, realizing that for her would come the reward which is promised to the pure in heart.

Mrs. Waggoner was married Feb. 15, 1870, to Peter B. Waggoner. For a short time they were residents of Independence, Mo., but with that exception Mrs. Waggoner spent her entire life in this county. The death of Mr. Waggoner occurred in 1896 and later the deceased with her daughters became residents of this city. Mrs. Waggoner was the mother of five children, two of whom died in infancy. Surviving are Mrs. Mary Holmes and Mrs. Mabel Holley of the Orleans neighborhood, and Miss Ruth Waggoner living at home. There are also five grandchildren, J. Stewart Holmes, Helen E. and Julia Holmes, Martha W. and Elizabeth Holley. There are also two brothers and two sisters, George and Henry Patterson and Mr. Allen Lincoln and Mrs. Eva Goe, all living at Independence, Mo.

The funeral services will be held at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the residence, with the services in charge of Dr. E. B. Landis, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian church. Interment will be made in Diamond Grove cemetery.

Diggins.

Robert Diggins died Saturday evening at 9:30 o'clock at his home in Concord, closing a life which was marked by long activity and large usefulness. Mr. Diggins had been a Morgan county resident for more than sixty years and at the time of death was 91 years, 7 months and 10 days old. Mr. Diggins was esteemed as a man of integrity and sterling worth and he was ever ready to join in any work for the common good or to lend his support toward community enterprise.

Mr. Diggins was born in St. Albans near London, England, June 19, 1825, the son of Edward and Mary Ann Diggins, attending the English schools and learning the carpenter's trade before coming to America which he did in 1853. Mr. Diggins came first to New Brunswick, Canada, and secured work as railroad carpenter. In 1851 he went to Norway and assisted in building the first railroad ever constructed in that country. Returning to the United States in 1856 he came directly to Morgan county, which has since been his home. In 1862 he entered the service of the government, working as a carpenter for the quartermasters' department in Cairo, Ill., and Nashville, Tenn., and continuing in service thru the period of the war. On his return to Concord he was for a time interested in growing orange trees for fence posts and later entered the undertaking business.

Mr. Diggins was for sixty years an Odd Fellow, holding membership in the Concord lodge and receiving the fifty year jewel ten years since. In 1862 he became affiliated with the Masonic order at Concord and was for several years treasurer of the lodge.

In November, 1862 occurred the marriage of Mr. Diggins to Miss Mary J. Eagle of Ipswich, England. To this union there were born nine children, of whom three survive, William H. Diggins, Miss Ida Diggins and Mrs. Elizabeth Crouse, all of Concord. Mrs. Diggins preceded her husband in death by six years.

For twenty five years Mr. Diggins was justice of the peace in Concord and for some time he held the office of supervisor of the poor. He has been a consistent Democrat and always took a keen interest in political questions.

The funeral services will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the First M. E. church of Concord. The Rev. W. P. Bowman, pastor of the church will be in charge and he will be assisted by a former pastor, the Rev. Royal W. Ennis of Mason City. Burial will be made in Concord cemetery.

They will take possession at a very early date and it is their expectation to build up and increase the popularity of an already successful school. The Oskosh business college has been founded many years and is the only institution of its kind in the city of 40,000 inhabitants. The field is attractive and the former owner disposed of the property simply because of his other interests. Mr. Springgate and Mr. Geer were formerly associated in work at Brown's Business college in this city and subsequently have worked together for the Sheldon School. It has been their desire, however, to resume business college work as owners and the Oskosh property was acquired.

Both of these men are thoroughly trained in the work and have personal characteristics which will be of great aid to them in the conduct of any business enterprise. Their past success and their personal integrity make certain that their work at Oskosh will be of a very successful kind.

For Itching Scalp

You do not want a slow treatment for itching scalp when hair is falling and the dandruff germ is killing the hair roots. Delay means no hair.

Get at once, therefore, a bottle of zemo for 25c or $1.00 for extra large size. Use as directed, for it does the work quickly. It kills the dandruff germ, nourishes the hair roots and immediately stops itching scalp. It is a pure, reliable, antiseptic and is not greasy, easy to use and will not stain. Soaps and shampoos are harmful, as they contain alkali. The best time to use for scalp itching is zemo, for it is safe and also inexpensive. The E. W. Ross Co., Cleveland, O.

COUNCIL HELD USUAL MONDAY SESSION

Repairs Needed at South Side Plant Consideration of Business District Paving Considered

Little other than routine business was transacted by the city council at the Monday morning session. At a meeting of the board of local improvement held following the council session the board postponed the matter of asking for bids for the pavement of South Main street and East State street. At this session also further action with reference to the proposed new paving in the business district was postponed until Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Under department reports Commissioner Martin mentioned two horses, Tom and Barney, that had been in the service of the fire department for about seventeen years. They both need a rest badly and while they will do some further service Mr. Martin thought the animals should be put out on pasture and given a long rest. The commissioner has authority to take whatever action he deems best.

Mr. Cox said he had ordered the Jacksonville Railway and Light company to stop putting from a well on their premises which they were testing. He said that they proposed to give a well a two week's test and as it was flowing 900 gallons an hour, that the streets in the vicinity of the plant were being flooded. He said that the gas company should be required to get permission from the council for work of this kind instead of going ahead without consultation.

Must Repair Boiler Walls
Mr. Vasconcellos mentioned that the brick work on boiler No. 3 at the south side water plant is in very bad shape and must be rebuilt at once. He regretted this expense and hoped the time would soon come when it would be possible to do all the pumping from the central plant, which would be possible if the south side station is electrified.

Daniel Keating of East Railroad street was present and said he had come for the purpose of telling the council what is done with garbage in the "old country." He said that there garbage is burned and the resulting ashes, after being screened, are used for sand and mortar. He said he had laid many walls of both brick and stone in which this material was used for the mortar.

The bids for the city printing for this year were received, that of the Courier company being $75 and that of the Journal $39. These bids were laid over under the rules. Mr. Vasconcellos also reported that George Stoltz, superintendent of the city light plant, is ill with appendicitis having been taken sick Sunday, but that conditions are favorable for his improvement.

Talk Paving Plans
At the meeting of the board of local improvement after very brief discussion it was decided to continue the hearing on the proposed paving in the business district until Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Vasconcellos said that the figures he had made from the frontage represented at the former hearing were as follows:

Asphalt 74850; tarvia 612; brick 269; blocks 60; no choice 129; best possible 119.

Included in the feet credit to asphalt is 150 on which the owner expressed a wish for asphalt or concrete blocks. From these figures came a lively discussion of the relative merits of paving materials and it appeared that a majority of the council favor some material which has stood the tests for years and there was apparent also the desire to have a pavement as noiseless as possible.

Mr. Vasconcellos expressed the idea that it would be better not to include in the proposed ordinance any portion of College avenue, East street, North street or West street, with the idea that it would be better to have pavements on those streets of the same material the whole length thru. The discussion was all of an informal character, and then the adjournment was taken to the date mentioned.

REVIVAL AT CENTENARY BEGAN MOST FAVORABLY

Over 600 at Two Sunday Services—Cottage Prayer Meeting Series Announced

Perhaps no revival service ever started under more auspicious circumstances than that which the Rev. E. L. Pletcher inaugurated at Centenary church Sunday morning. Over 600 attended the two services and great interest was shown.

In conjunction with the revival services cottage prayer meetings are being held. The following meetings are scheduled for this morning from 10 to 10:30 o'clock.

First Ward—Mrs. Stice, 336 E. State street, J. W. Priest, leader.

Second Ward—Frank Bristow, 834 West North Street, E. L. Pletcher, leader.

Third Ward—Albert Farrow, 316 E. College street, Mrs. Naylor, leader.

Fourth Ward—F. A. McCarty, 620 W. College avenue, J. W. Taylor, leader.

One of the best features of the service is the singing. This part of the service is in charge of Graham Fraser. Mr. Fraser is not only a capable leader but is a soloist of ability. The chorus is practically the same as that which assisted in the revivals last year. It sang splendidly Sunday. In addition Mr. Fraser sang two solos.

At the service Monday evening, Mr. Pletcher took for his subject "The Supreme Test," based on the text from Matthew "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness." He emphasized the tendency of men to seek other things and follow strange Gods. In closing he showed that real peace comes only in seeking the kingdom of God.

Excellent music was furnished by the chorus of thirty voices. Mr. Fraser, the singer, gave most effectively. "I Know I Love Him Better Every Day."

At the morning service, Sunday he touched on the text relating to the woman touching the hem of Christ's garment. The speaker pointed out that we also could touch the hem of Art and science but especially should touch the hem of the church. It we live rightly our best friend will always be near. At the Sunday evening service the Rev. Mr. Pletcher based his sermon on the ten virgins, taking the words "for our lamps have gone out." His remarks were forceful and appealing. During this service Mr. Fraser sang as a solo, "So May You."

CHARITY DANCE PROVED A SUCCESSFUL EVENT

Nearly Five Hundred Present at the New Priest Garage Monday Night—Goody's Sum Raised for Associated Charities.

The charity dancing party given at the new Priest garage Monday night and made possible thru the generous offer of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Priest, was a great success. The arrangements for the party began only a few days ago but were carried forward with such zeal by the members of the several committees appointed that nearly 500 persons were present. Randall's orchestra of twelve pieces furnished an excellent program of dance music from 8:30 until 1 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Priest and a large list of patrons and patronesses had part in extending to all comers a cordial welcome. Felix E. Farrell was floor manager and Oliver Spaulding the door keeper. Members of the police department also assisted at the several entrances. The building was brilliantly lighted and some special decorations added to the appearance of the interior.

There were plenty of chairs for those who did not dance, and a special program included some acrobatic acts by a Y. M. C. A. team which were well done, and three films of moving pictures showing in interesting detail the great Ford factory. The dancers found the hardwood floors and those of concrete, equally excellent and the broad spaciousness of the entire building made it seem especially suited for such an occasion. At the north side refreshment tables were spread where coffee, sandwiches and other eatables could be obtained. The expense for the occasion were very insignificant and thus a large sum was secured for the Associated Charities work.

Mr. Priest said last night that he very much appreciated the interest taken in the affair by the public and the directors of the Associated Charities made frequent mention of their gratitude to the garage owner for having conceived the idea of having such an event.

Garage Appointments
The new garage is one of the most modern in this section of the country. The total floor space is 12,480 feet. This is divided into the various departments and is arranged for the greatest convenience.

There are two offices, one private and each has a floor space 12 by 12 feet. The display room is 30 by 32 feet and the woman's rest room is 16 by 14 feet. There are two lavatories fitted with every convenience.

The stock room is 16 by 9 feet and the accessories room has a floor space 12 by 25 feet. The assembling room is 48 by 56 feet, the oil room 8 by 20 feet, and the night man's room 7 by 12 feet, wash room 14 by 20 feet and the work shop 20 by 44 feet.

The garage proper occupies a floor space of 58 by 90 feet. In the basement where is located the heating plant and storage for coal is a space 25 by 30 feet. The floors of the offices, display room, woman's rest room, accessories room and stock room are of maple. The other floors of concrete.

Joseph DeGoveia was the general contractor. The brick work was done by John Oliver, the heating system was installed by the Jacksonville plumbing and Heating company, the wiring was done by G. A. Steber. Frame work was supplied by the South Planting Mill and John W. Baptist did the concrete work.

THE DRY'S PROGRAM IN THE STATE ASSEMBLY

The Legislative Voter's League in a pamphlet just issued has the following to say of Col. Bryan's visit to Springfield today:

"William J. Bryan is to visit Springfield Tuesday in his crusade against the saloon and on the same date the 'dry' leaders of the legislative plan to start their Assembly drive to make the state of Illinois dry."

"Senator Wood will introduce a resolution calling for a popular vote to oust drams from the state. At the same time county option, residence district and anti-shipping bills will be offered in both branches by other members of the 'dry' legislative contingent."

"Supt. Scott McBride of the Anti-Saloon League states last week that the full force of the legislative strength of the 'drys' would be marshalled behind the resolution for a state-wide vote on prohibition."

"Representative Dahlberg has introduced two of the bills on the 'dry' program. One makes the keeping open of dram shops on Sunday a felony. The second prohibits breweries from owning saloons or having a direct financial interest of any sort in a dramshop."

Dr. G. H. Kopperl has returned from Chicago, where he has been for two weeks working out of the home office of the Illinois Life Insurance Co. studying methods. The experience has been valuable and that Dr. Kopperl is successful in his work is indicated in a recent issue of the Illinois Life Bulletin. Comment is made upon the fact that he has recently written two large policies and secured them from men who had never been approached except for policies of small amount. Dr. Kopperl is already enrolled as a member of the $100,000 club, although the time limit for membership is next August.

THREE SUITS FILED FOR FEBRUARY TERM OF COURT

Petition in Hembrough Estate Asks Authority to Borrow Funds—Partition Suits in Peters and Campbell Estates

A petition was filed in the circuit court Monday by W. T. Wilson as attorney for the Farmers State Bank & Trust company for hearing at the February term. The petition, which is directed against Hannah L. Hembrough et al., is a friendly proceeding in which the authority of the court is asked to borrow a sum of money to care for the debts of the estate until the youngest heir becomes of age two years hence.

Mrs. Hannah Hembrough is the widow of John A. Hembrough and Alma, Elizabeth, Clyde C. and Robert Rudolph are the children of the testator. The will provided for the payment of debts against the estate by the children when certain lands are transferred to them as they reached the age of twenty one. It is indicated in the petition that the debts against the estate, including the widow's award, amounted to $25,681.35. The deceased owned in addition to his land at the time of his death about $11,000 worth of personal property. The widow's award had been fixed at $1,200. Chattel property was sold at private sale and this sum applied upon the debts, still leaving due about $17,000. The petition states that it is the desire of Mrs. Hembrough and the two children who are of age to borrow from the Farmers State Bank & Trust company at an interest rate not to exceed five per cent, a sum sufficient for the payment of the debts, the repayment to be made when the transfers are made to the children, when the youngest child, Rudolph, who is now nineteen years of age, attains his majority.

Seek Division of Property
L. O. Vaught as attorney has filed a partition suit for John W. Brunk et al. directed against J. Z. Peters, W. E. Peters et al. The property at 1227 North Fayette street, a house and lot in Lambert's north addition. The bill shows that the property belonged to the estate of W. W. Peters, who died Jan. 20, 1908.

Would Partition Lands
Another partition suit filed is that by Walter W. Wright as attorney for C. E. Campbell of Waverly against A. C. Baldwin as trustee. The complainant is a brother of the late J. A. Campbell who left his interest in an 80 acre tract near Waverly in trust for his daughter, to whom the property is to be transferred when she reaches the age of twenty one. The will further provides that in event of the death of the child if Mrs. Campbell remains unmarried that the income is to be paid to her for life and in event of her death, to the mother of the testator, and in event of the death of all those mentioned, that the property is to pass into the hands of his brothers then surviving.

It is the suggestion of the complainant that the present ownership and the possible division of the property present various possibilities of complication and a partition of the property is suggested on that account.

MRS. HARTMANN HEARD IN BRILLIANT RECITAL

Singer Presents Program of American Composers Before Large Audience.

In spite of the number of other events in Jacksonville on Monday evening, January 22, an audience that almost taxed the seating capacity of Music Hall greeted Mrs. Florence Pierron Hartmann of the College of Music faculty in her annual song recital.

In other programs Mrs. Hartmann has presented offerings from the works of song writers of all periods and nations but last evening she elected to be heard in a program of songs by contemporary American song writers. It was a program of impelling beauty, intense interest and one in which every true American could take just pride because of the unfailing excellence in the numbers offered.

Mrs. Hartmann has an excellent voice and to each number gave the peculiar mission and coloring which it needed. The big brilliant numbers were sparkling and the more subdued numbers were tenderly beautiful. From the program of such uniform excellence it is impossible to single out any one number as better exemplifying the art of the composer or singer. Mrs. Hartmann had as her artist co-laborer in the program Mary Louise McKnight whose accompaniments were unfailing, sympathetic and beautiful and at times when needed, brilliant. The audience was unusually generous with applause and Mrs. Hartmann was forced to enquire repeatedly.

NEW ORLEANS ELEVATOR A CONCRETE STRUCTURE

Structure Will Have 20,000 Bushels Capacity and Will be Modern in Every Detail—Road Will be Straightened at Orleans Station.

There will soon be erected at Orleans an elevator building of 20,000 bushels capacity, costing approximately $8,000, and built with reference to the latest practice in elevator design, if the tentative plans, approved by the directors of the Orleans co-operative company and now in the hands of a draughtsman, are finally accepted. It is planned to build the new elevator of concrete, obviating the danger from fires such as destroyed the last elevator and supplying a type of building which has proved its strength and durability thru long periods of time. Although none have to this time been erected in Morgan county, concrete elevators have proved popular in many places and there are localities in which few wooden ones are seen.

At a recent conference of the directors with C. E. Brown, division superintendent of the Wabash, decision was made to construct the new elevator some fifty or sixty feet farther north than the old site and thus allow room for straightening the road. The Morton road at Orleans has long been troublesome to auto drivers by reason of the detour around the elevator, making three sharp turns necessary in but a few rods. With the elevator placed to the northward, the officers of road district No. 8 will run the roadway thru in a straight line and a dangerous portion of the road to Springfield will have been done away with.

The moving of elevator site will necessitate the building of a spur and the Wabash officials have made clear their willingness to begin this work in the near future. According to Clark Stevenson, one of the directors of the company, Mr. Brown will probably be in Orleans some time this week and further details with regard the project will be adjusted.

In connection with improvement of the road at Orleans it may be recalled that another dangerous point in the Morton road will be abolished when the subway at Arnold is completed. According to Charles Magill, who was a road commissioner when the subway was planned and who had much to do with initiating the work, Wabash engineers are designing the construction work and the project will be carried thru to completion with the coming of warmer weather. The subway will conduct the road beneath the track in a diagonal direction and there will thus be no sharp turn at Arnold to trouble the driver of horse vehicle or motor.

MET DEATH BENEATH WHEELS OF "Q" TRAIN

George A. Crabbe Killed When He Stepped in Front of Passenger Train — Resident Here Twenty Years.

George A. Crabbe well known resident of this city, was instantly killed about 11:15 o'clock Monday morning by north bound Burlington passenger train No. 47 about two miles south-east of the city. Crabbe's body was badly mutilated, both legs being cut off and the body and head being disfigured.

Coroner's Jury Summoned.
The train was stopped and body loaded in the baggage car and brought to this city and taken to the undertaking parlors of W. W. Gillham. Coroner Rose was notified and empaneled the following jury: W. R. Moody, foreman; W. E. Smith, George Shaw, Oris Jolly, Paul Strawn and W. J. Wood. The inquest will be held at the Gillham undertaking parlors at 11:30 this morning.

Coroner Rose instructed E. F. Mitchell, agent for the Burlington, to have the engineer and fireman of the passenger train here this morning for the inquest.

So far as can be learned Mr. Crabbe had been helping his son-in-law, Oath Thorne, chop wood on the Morton farm southeast of the city. He was on his way to the farm when he met his death. He was walking on the right of way of the Burlington and stepped out of the way of the local freight which was leaving the city.

He stepped right in front of the north bound passenger train. The train was so close to Crabbe that it was impossible to stop it in time to keep from striking him. Evidently the noise of the freight train drowned all sound of the approaching passenger train.

Native of Ohio.
George A. Crabbe was born in Piqua county, Ohio, Sept. 17, 1849. Forty-four years ago he came to Illinois and settled near Merritt. Here he followed the occupation of farming and also worked at the trade of carpenter. Twenty years ago he came to Jacksonville where he has since resided. During his residence here he has followed the occupation of contractor and builder, being compelled to give up his business a few years ago on account of ill health.

December 9, 1872, he was united in marriage to Miss Hattie Peters who survives him together with the following children: Mrs. Lou Thorne residing southeast of the city, Mrs. Sallie Patterson of St. Louis, Mrs. Grace Temple of Jacksonville, Mrs. Hattie Harris of Springfield, Mo.; Ciel Crabbe, supervisor at the Illinois School for the Blind of this city, William and Morris Crabbe of this city.

The following brothers survive: Allen Crabbe of Springfield, Ohio; Reuben Crabbe of Rhea, Okla.; Milton of Rigby, N. D.; Banner Crabbe of Cleveland, O., and Frank Crabbe of this city. He leaves also three grandchildren.

His brother, Frank N. Crabbe, was at the Burlington station to take the train for Merritt to do some carpenter work when the train arrived at the Burlington station. He recognized the body as that of his brother and immediately notified his son at the Blind and then went to the home to notify the family.

Many years ago Mr. Crabbe joined the Masonic order at Exeter and the Odd Fellows at Merritt. He was a member of Brooklyn church and was a man who commanded the respect of all who knew him.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

MACHINES AND IDEALS THEME OF CHAPEL TALK

Prof. H. F. Moore of State University
Heard at Illinois College Chapel—
An Inspiring Address.

An interested and attentive audience heard Prof. H. F. Moore of the state university talk in the Jones Memorial building at Illinois college yesterday on "Machines and Ideals." The gentleman's topic was unique and was treated in a masterly manner.

He said in brief: "The tendency in life is to divide into the practical and the ideal. Some are pure and some artificial. A builder is practical and sees only the materials of which the structure is made put in proper place according to the plans given him. The architect sees a beautiful completed structure, an idea developed into something pleasing to the taste and useful as well. Two men, A. and B., will read the book of Job. Ask Mr. A. what he found in it and he will tell you it was simply the wailing of a man afflicted with boils. Ask him if he didn't note the question, 'If a man die shall he live again?' and the grand answer and he will say no. Ask him if he noted the sublime imagery of the 28th chapter, the wondrous and mighty unanswered questions in the latter chapters and he will answer no."

The Drifting Viewpoint.
"But B sees noble vision in that sublime poem. He hears the majestic voice of the Creator as the questions are propounded, the meek hearer and rejoices in the grand justice done him in the latter end. Two men go to a railroad station and see a train come in. One man sees merely a huge machine drawing a train of cars. He sees nothing of the history of the development of that engine, from the humble beginning of Watt on down to the present well nigh perfect machine. Mathematics and engines are not associated in his mind with ideals. A builder of machines may have an ideal as has a painter and develop it wonderfully."

"Real service must accompany beauty to be of any benefit. An idealist once developed a wonderfully beautiful basin of Tudor architecture but it was impractical, unsanitary and could not be used. Great musicians attain wonders in technical lines and they are serviceable when they add to the sum of human happiness and cause men to sing."

"Two men enter a machine shop; one may hear only noise; another hears either the harmony of the efficient machinery or a dry bearing crying out for oil and he will have an ideal embracing a conception at once serviceable and beautiful."

The Value of Vision.
"One man may get no farther than service; others much farther. The designers of a concrete bridge sees with his ideal a shapely structure rising in fine proportions to gladden the eye and benefit mankind. Another sees in it only bolts, nuts, braces, stays and material of which the structure is made."

"The government reclamation service furnishes a fine example of the ideal. The man with vision saw arid acres, worthless without water; he saw, as it were in a vision, water conducted to these acres which were caused to blossom as the rose and furnish support for thousands of human beings. He saw the various means necessary to accomplish the work and saw it completed. He solved another troublesome question, that of the saloon, the arch enemy of man, and which could not be suppressed and kept from greatly interfering with the work. He used moving pictures to exhibit and describe the evil effects of alcohol and the men employed were largely won to sobriety. Do not say there is no romance in visions and machines. Makers of machines see visions and dream dreams as do other men."

Heard at Two Churches.

Prof. H. F. Moore's talk on music at the Congregational church Sunday morning was very interesting and in a number of Sunday school songs, told about the authors and the circumstances under which the songs were written and then had them sung by his audience. He is leader of the singing in the Sunday school he attends at Urbana and is an authority on that subject. He talks from an exalted standpoint and has little use for anything trashy or cheap.

At night Prof. Moore addressed an interested audience at Westminster church with "Church Hymns" as his theme.

ROBERT RIGGINS WAS ONE OF OLDEST RESIDENTS

Deceased Had Long Been Member of Concord Masonic Fraternity—
News Notes from Concord

The passing of the venerable Robert Diggins, of our village, removes a long-time resident. The Journal reporter distinctly remembers receiving his subscription for the weekly Journal, along about 1880. Not only that, but Mr. Diggins helped build the house now owned by B. W. Brunk, where the writer was born over 53 years ago. A great many buildings in and about Concord are the work, in whole or in part, of "Uncle Bob," as he was known. He was, no doubt, the oldest male resident in this vicinity and the oldest member of the Masonic fraternity.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Plank gave a dinner on Saturday to a small company of friends and a very enjoyable time was had. Those present were James Reed of North Dakota, Lense Ravenscroft of Versailles, the Misses Rose and Alberta Quigg, local teachers, of Virginia, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Woolf, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Ham, Mrs. L. H. Plank, J. E. Whorton, and Albert Brockhouse.

Mrs. Ed Chrisman, of the vicinity of Riggston, has been a Concord visitor recently and after calling on Mrs. James Rexroat and the Morrises, she returned home, accompanied by Mrs. T. L. Morrison. J. M. Fox has been a victim of the lagrippe, but is bettering better. Edgar Cooper, wife and baby, are

USE "CASCARETS" FOR LIVER AND BOWELS WHEN CONSTIPATED

When Bilious, Headachy, Sick, for Sour Stomach, Bad Breath
Bad Colds

Get a 10-cent box.

Take a Cascaret tonight to cleanse your liver, stomach and bowels, and you will surely feel great by morning. You men and women who have head-ache, coated tongue, a bad cold are bilious, nervous, upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel all worn out. Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil?

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the bowels.

Remember a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. A 10 cent box from your druggist means healthy bowel action; a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children.—Adv.

MILLIKIN WON IN THRILLING GAME

Decatur Players Had Hard Struggle to Defeat Illinois College—Score 24 to 20 In An Overtime Game

In an overtime battle Illinois college lost to Millikin University in Armory hall Monday night, by a score of 24 to 20. The game was full of thrills and it surely was no place for a man with a weak heart.

First one team and then the other would take the lead. When the first half ended the score was 10 to 8 in favor of Millikin. When the gun sounded for the close of the second half the score stood at 19 all. After a few minutes rest the teams lined up for the five minute overtime tilt. For some little time neither team was able to score. Then in a scramble for the ball Catlin stood Tomlinson on his ear and he was out for several seconds. Referee Martin decided a double foul had been made and that was the beginning of the end. Tomlinson threw his goal and put Illinois one point to the good. Catlin however threw his goal and again tied the score.

When it looked like the game would not be decided in the five minutes Catlin made a phenomenal basket almost from the center of the floor. This was followed by one from a difficult angle by Cannon. That ended the scoring.

It was surely a hard game to lose but Illinois demonstrated that she has one of the strongest teams in the Little Nineteen conference. It was the hardest game Millikin has had this season.

For Illinois Tomlinson Hill, Gaylord and Pierce played a great game on the defense. Tomlinson threw four goals out of five tries on free throws. Spink played a wonderful defensive game for Illinois and so good was his work that most of the visitors' field baskets were long shots.

For Millikin Catlin was easily the star. Besides playing a fine defensive game he threw two baskets from the field and that were sensational and threw six out of seven goals on free throws. It probably was this superiority in free throws as much as anything that encompassed Illinois' defeat.

The game was exceedingly rough. Times and again Goltra and Catlin, the giant guards for Millikin roughed Gaylord and Hill. In fact their work was at times deliberately dirty. Referee Martin, however, was lenient with them for if he had called all the fouls made, both Goltra and Catlin would have been disqualified before the end of the first half. The score:

GIRLS! GIRLS! TRY IT! STOP DANDRUFF AND BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR

Hair Stops Falling Out and Gets Thick, Wavy, Strong and Beautiful

Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a "Dandierine hair cleanse". Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Dandierine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil and in just a few moments you will have doubled the beauty of your hair.

Besides beautifying the hair at once, Dandierine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair. But what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you will actually see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair and lots of it surely get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Dandierine from any druggist or toilet counter, and just try it.—Adv.

It's because their Turkish blend is BALANCED

Balanced—that is what makes Fatima's blend comfortable, both while you're smoking and afterward, too.

The milder tobaccos in this Turkish blend are so well balanced with the richer, fuller-flavored leaves as to entirely off-set all "oily heaviness"—the cause of discomfort in so many other cigarettes.

And this very blending which makes Fatimas so comfortable (and therefore so sensible) is also just what imparts that unusually good Fatima taste.

But even so, you alone can decide whether or not you like Fatimas. That's easy to settle—try them.

LETTER FROM DR. COCHRAN

Dr. C. C. Cochran writing from Kissimmee, Florida, says:

I arrived at Jacksonville, Florida, Thursday, Jan. 11. Remained there two days and toured the city with auto. It is a fine city of 85,000 population, of great wealth and beauty, situated 18 miles from Atlantic coast on the St. Johns river which is from one to two miles wide and very deep. The Atlantic steamers dock right at Jacksonville.

I came on here Saturday, Jan. 13, Sunday Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Ledford with two others and myself motored to St. Cloud nine miles east, to hear Bishop Quayle, who was holding a conference at St. Cloud and we heard a very fine sermon.

Auto riding here is a great pleasure. The roads are comparatively level and mostly paved thruout the state, partly with brick and partly with mussel shells.

Quite a number of northern people come here in their autos. Last Saturday a man and his wife arrived here from Lansing, Mich., in their auto.

He is 50 years of age and drove the car himself. He, Mr. Ledford, another lovely gentleman, who lives here, and myself have been using his auto to inspect the country. We have seen thousands of acres of orange groves many of them not yet harvested. Grape fruit and oranges (different from our northern fruits) will remain on trees till spring. The northern people are here inspecting the possibilities of this state. Orange growing is certainly profitable business. Orange growers told me that they sell their crop on the trees for from $500 to $800 an acre. You cannot buy a good well kept grove for less than $1,000 to $1,500 an acre. You can buy raw land (yet in timber) and energetic, can have a bearing orange grove in four years, yielding 100 boxes to the acre, which sell here for $1.00 a box. Grape fruit is equally profitable. Gardening is another enterprise. At Hastings, a station near here, they sold their celery crop (about 1,000 acres) for $1,000,000, also about 1,000 acres of head lettuce for same amount of money, so they told me. All vegetables are alike profitable.

Yesterday, I visited a garden just outside the city limits. The garden-er told me that he came here four years ago and bought seven acres of raw land with the timber on it. It is all now in garden. He has paw paw, lemon, orange and banana trees all bearing also strawberries which he picks from October to June, also vegetables of all kinds. He has just bought 20 acres more which he will soon have yielding fruit. He says each year his land nets him $100 an acre after paying expenses of family.

This man measured off one-half of an acre to each of his two daughters 11 and 9 years of age. They planted it in vegetables. The 11 year old girl sold her crop for $92.00 and got as a prize from the state a scholarship at the state university also a gold hunters case watch. The children told me about it with their mother as a listner. They are Wisconsin people.

They do not feed stock any here but graze the whole year round. A ranchman told me that he handled five thousand head of cattle last year. Said another ranchman sold 35,000 head last year. It sounds big.

I have not yet spoken of the fine fish in the lakes nor the beautiful flowers which bloom the year round.

DON'T HURT A BIT!

Lift your old, torturous corns and calluses right off with the fingers.

This tiny bottle holds the wonder of wonders. It contains an almost magical drug discovered by a Cincinnati man. It is called Freezone. It is a compound made from ether.

Apply a few drops of this freezone upon a tender, aching corn or a hardened callus. Instantly the soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so shriveled and loose that you just lift it off with the fingers.

You feel no pain or soreness when applying freezone or afterwards. It does not even irritate the skin.

Just ask in any drug store for a small bottle of Freezone. This will cost but a few cents but will positively rid your poor, suffering feet of every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, or the tough calluses on bottom of feet. Genuine Freezone has a yellow label. Look for yellow label.—Adv.
